Arrive at the approximate cost

Based on the dimensions of your house, a specially designed software will provide you with a quick estimate of materials required and, therefore, the complete fabrication cost of your roof.

Get a fairly accurate estimate of the roof installation cost and time

A Roof junction fabricator will visit the site of construction to arrive at a fairly accurate cost of the roof installation. The Roof Junction dealer will provide you with the cost estimate on the payment of the site visit and consultation charges. This charge will be later waived off if you choose to execute your roof installation through the Roof Junction dealer.
